

For different types of event, how much human and bot are involved?

What are the counts of different events happening based on regions?

For different types of event, how many anonymous entities are involved?

How many valid events are there for different Wikipedia domains?

